Presenting the Congratulations of the American People

On the 60th Auniversary of Her Accession to the Throne-Jubitee Honors Con-ferred-Royal Bousehold Presents to the Aged Queen.

LONDON, June 22 .- The bow drawing room, in which the envoys were received is a large room heavily ornamented with gilt and hung with silk. Two yeoman of the guard were on duty at the door.

The queen was dressed in black, wore a widow's cap, the ribbon of the Order of the Garter and some others. She sat in a gilded chair near the center of the room, the prince of Wales standing immediately behind her. At her right hand was the princess of Wales and others of the royal family were near her majesty or scattered about the room. The duke of Auerstadt and the duke of Sotomayor, representing respectively France and Spain, preceded the United States envoy, Mr. Reid, being third, and followed by the papal envoy, Mgr. Sambucetti.

All the envoys presented their letters with the lowest obeisance. The queen took each letter and smilingly addressed two or three sentences of thanks and compliments to each Mr. Reid was received the most cordial manner possible. Her majesty expressed her sincere thanks to President McKinley and to "the great nation of our kinsmen."

QUEEN VICTORIA

After Mr. Reid had retired, he strolled about the palace a little and went home at 4:15 p. m.

London, June 22 -President Mc-Kinley has sent the following personal letter to Queen Victoria, which was delivered to her by Mr. Whitelaw Reid, special envoy:

To her majesty Victoria, queen of Great Britain and Ireland, and empress of India:

'Great and good friend-In the the United States, I present their sincere felicitations upon the 63th anniversary of your majesty's accession to the crown of Great Britain."

"I express the sentiments of my fellow citizens in wishing for your people the prolongation of a reign illustrious and marked by advance in science, arts and popular well-being. On behalf of my countrymen, I wish particularly to recognize your friendship for the United States, and your love of peace exemplified upon important occassions.

"It is pleasing to acknowledge the debt of gratitude and respect due to your personal virtues. May your life be prolonged and peace, honor and prosperity bless the people over whom you have been called to rule. May liberty flourish throughout your empire under just and equal laws and your government continue strong in the affections of all who live under it. "And I pray God to have your majesty in His holy keeping. "Done at Washington this 28th day of May, A. D., 1897. "Your good friend. "WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

"By the President.

"JOHN SHERMAN. "Secretary of State."

Among the list of jubilee honors is one for the Canadian premier, Wilfrid Laurier, who is made a privy councillor. Sir Donald Smith, the Canadian high commissione in London, has been slevated to the pet age.

All the colonial premiers, William E. Lecky, the historian, and Sir Herbert Maxwell, the author, have been made privy councillors; the prince of Wales is made grand master and principal knight of the grand cross of the Bath; an earldom is conferred upon Baron Egerton, of Tatton, and peerages are conferred upon the earl of Glasgow, Viscount Downe, Justice Lopes, Rt. Hon. Ion Trant Hamilton and Sir John Burns. The mayors of Leeds and Sheffield are made lord mayors, and the lord mayor of London, George Faudel Phillips, is made a baronet. Bancroft, the actor, is knighted, and the chief justices of Manitoba, Montreal and Ontario, Messrs. Taylor, Taggart-Tait and Hagerty are knighted.

The list is disappointing, as the names of many who expected honors are omitted.

The queen at 8:45 Monday evening entertained at dinner 90 of her most distinguished guests in the state supper room at Buckingham palace. Among those present were the prince and princess of Wales, with all the members of the royal family, the royal guests, the envoys of state with the rank of ambassador, and the great officers of the household, who were in full court dress.

Queen Victoria left Windsor castle at noon, by the sovereigns entrance, facing the longwalk, and traversed part of the high Thames streets of Windsor on her way to the railroad station. Her majesty's carriage was drawn by a pair of greys, with postillions and out-riders. The queen was accompanied by her eldest uaughter, ex-Empress Frederick, of Germany, and by Princess Christian of Scheleswig-Holstein and Princess Henry of Battenberg, who occupied another carriage, preceding that of her majesty. The queen, on arriving at the railroad station of Windsor, walked through the private waitingroom, leaning on the arm of an Indian attendant, and entered her saloon carriage. The royal train started at 12:10 and arrived at Paddington at 12:30 p.

m. The weather was fine and warm. Next to Paddington the crowds selected Buckingham palace as the most interesting point to view the proceedings, as the gathering of the envoys and their suites and the Indian officers invited to luncheon, to be afterwards presented, had already begun at noon. The reception of the envoys took place in the bow drawing room of the palace.

AMERICANS IN LONDON

the Journal from London says: The Americans will have all the best of it during the jubilee week, as they will enjoy the hospitality of their English triends and reciprocate their attentions after the tumult is over. Preparations are being made to exhaust all the possible resources. Dinners, receptions, balls and afternoon teas will follow each other in quick succession, interspersed here and there when the weather permits with garden parties and river trips.

William Waldorf Astor has already set the ball rolling by entertaining the masses before he receives the aristocracy. He has published a jubilee edition de Luxe of the Pali Mall Gazette, for one penny, against six pence and one shilling charged by the other newspaper proprietors. He has done this without any hope of possible gain, as there is no chance of any profit accruing from it. In addition he will receive royalty and all distinguished foreign visitors in finished style at his town mansion Carlton house terrace will have its doors open wide all this week, while three special functions will occur during the week

Mrs. Mackay, one of London's greatest American hostesses, will remain secluded. This is a matter of deep regret to many of her American and English friends, but she is preserving her strict mourning.

Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain, formerly Miss Endicott, will be one of the foremost American entertainers. Her new house in Piccadilly, once the mansion of the late Sir Julian Goldsmith, has been brilliantly decorated and will be the scene of several elaborate balls, the first of which occurs on the 28th. It promises to equal, if not to eclipse, that of the duchess of Westminster. which preceded it, on the 25th.

Mrs. Ogden Goelet, whose dinner for the prince of Wales at Osborne house was pronounced the social success of the season, will repeat the affair on a still more gorgeous scale. Long rows of German kings and Russian princes will fill her spacious corridors and listen to prominent operatic artists free of charge, for carriage hire even is being provided for them by the British government, whose generosity has been excited by the occasion of the diamond jubilee.

NASHVULE, Tenn., June 22.-Brass bands playing, drums beating, the shrill fife's music plercing the streets thronged with men wearing badges. showing they are delegates to the Confederate Veterans' re-union were some of the scenes this city experienced Monday night.

Every regular train from north and south, east and west, Monday brought recruits and special trains by the score have added to the fast swelling numbers. Not only are the veterans here, but their wives and daughters have come. The daughters of the confederacy and the sons of veterans are represented in force. Monday night there was an avalanche of arrivals. Every train was filled to overflowing. But the arrangements for taking care of the visitors is excellent and there is no delay in assigning them to quarters. Many prominant men during the war and leaders of public thought and sentiment are here; men who have empty sleeves or who walk with crutches, are in attendance, and the rank and file, the sturdy yoemanry, have turned out in great num-

The People Are Lving in Tents and in the Open Air in the Outskirts-The Earthquike Shocks Continue to He Felt at Intervals.

OANACA, Mex. June 22.-The continued earthquake shocks and heavy rains have seriously interrupted telegraph communication with the Isthmus of Tehuantepec during the past three days.

Advices were received here Monday that the official commission sent to the city of Tehauntepec by President Diaz to investigate the reported formation of a volcano and the extent of the damages has arrived at its destination and found the condition of affairs much worse than expected.

The town of Tehauntepec contained about 15,000 inhabitants, and is completely destroyed so far as houses and buildings are concerned, not one remaining standing. There were a num-ber of substantial and costly buildings in the town. The people are living in tents and in the open air on the outskirts of the place. The earthquake shocks continue to be felt at frequent intervals and the people are terrified. The heavy smoke and other indications of an active volcano to the west of the city are no longer visible.
